

others around, but is wise

Rebecka Ryberg Skött

Dear Polly,

Thank you for the most idyllic and indulgent six days I have ever had! Julie Arkell is indeed an inspirational teacher who was willing to share her creative processes and her love for all things lost and found, but it was the beautiful surroundings of the 'maison de maitre' – Katie and Michael Armitage's stunning home which made the experience so perfect. Winning this prize has revealed the benefits of meeting like minded people; maybe this is the way for us all to maintain our sanity in the increasingly frantic world. I have made friends for life during the short stay and can't wait to attend another workshop chez Les Soeurs Anglaise.

Danielle Hanson, prize-draw winner in our Readers' Survey 2009 – look out for our next survey in 2010...